

THE CENTRAL RECORD

PURE RELIGION, UNTARNISHED DEMOCRACY AND GOOD GOVERNMENT.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1911.

NUMBER 61.

The Joseph Mercantile Company. Spring 1911.

We announce our Spring and Easter display of Authoritative styles in Women's apparel

Saturday, April 1st 1911.

Completeness and Correctness combine to make this exhibit the most important ever held in Lancaster Refined Taste, Individuality and Exclusiveness of style are markedly noticeable in our display of Suits, Coats, Skirts, Waists, and all the newest dress fabrics.

Regarding price, it may be well to add that the woman who wishes to spend a moderate sum will find just as much exclusiveness and beauty as the woman who wishes the highest-priced garments.
Spring and Easter displays worthy of prominent mentions are GLOVES, HOSIERY, FOOTWEAR, CORSETS, NECKWEAR and every known and fashionable accessory for Womens' fashionable attire.

The Joseph Mercantile Company.

Ladies' Trading Palace.

Where The Newest is Always Shown First.

I will break your colts or get your old horses accustomed to automobile for 75c per day. Let me handle them for you. W. B. Burton. 3 10 tf.

Dr. Pearce's Grandson Dead.
Stanley Dodd Pearce, age, seven years, died at the home of his father, Stanley D. Pearce, in Kirkwood Mo., after only a few days illness. Deceased was a grandson of Dr. E. H. Pearce pastor of the Methodist church at this place.

Mr. Barnett Speaks.
A good crowd heard Mr. R. L. Barnett of Paducah Ky. at the court house Monday, who spoke in the interest of the farmers union. Owing to the fact that both county and circuit court was in session not as much interest was shown in the meeting as would otherwise have been taken.

Keeping Him Busy.
There being two weeks interval between the closing of the Garrard Circuit Court and the opening of the Boyle Circuit Court, Governor Willson has appointed Judge Walker special Judge of the Greene county Circuit Court to preside in the case of John W. Lewis against Greene county, the local Circuit Judge being for some reason disqualified to preside in the case. Judge Walker left for Greensburg Wednesday.

Sale Of City Property.
Hughes & Swinebroad, the real estate men, sold for Dr. J. B. Kinnaird his property on the corner of Buford and Campbell streets, consisting of the lot and residence and poultry yard for $3, 400.00. This sale was made to Noah Marsee for his son-in-law White Mar-see who will take possession January 1st, 1912 and become one of our Citizens. We are always glad to welcome men like Mr. Marsee to our City and bespeak for him success in the poultry business.

In The Toils.
Mabel Watkins and Agnes Faulkner, mention of whose arrest was made in last weeks issue, were fined $100. each for selling whiskey by Judge Harris.
A few doses like this will suffice to break up this traffic which seems again to be endeavoring to rear its head in Lancaster.

Marshal Herron has his eye on several other parties who he thinks have been bootlegging, and if the fate of these two offenders does not scare them into a discontinuance of their business, it will be only a matter of time when they will suffer the same fate.

Millinery Opening.
Mr. R. S. Brown announces his millinery opening in this issue of the paper.
Miss Nannie Anderson has returned from the city where she made herself familiar with all the latest styles.

Luther Ray Dead.
Luther Ray died at his home near Bryantville Sunday after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. His remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery Monday, the funeral ceremony being conducted by the Bryantville lodge of Masons, of which he was a member.
Mr. Ray was thirty years of age. A wife and three small children survive him.

Hon Harve Helm Here.
Hon. Harve Helm was over from Stanford Tuesday afternoon. He commends Lancaster people very highly for their wisdom in choosing the Park as the site for the Government building and says that it will be the means of securing us at least $25,000 more as appropriation for the building. Mr. Helm leaves Sunday for Washington to be present at the extra session of congress.

Morgan Chinn Announces.
Morgan Chinn of Frankfort has announced his candidacy for the nomination for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.
Mr. Chinn though a young man has long been connected with democratic politics in Kentucky, and is well acquainted throughout the state. He is the author of the famous "Chinn School Book" bill, and has served one term in the office to which he now aspires.

He will make an active personal canvass of the state from now until after the primary and will doubtless be able to give a good account of himself when the ballots are counted.

Bridges Chosen.
At a meeting of the Board of Education held last Saturday Superintendent D. W. Bridges, of the Lancaster Graduate Schools, was chosen to the Superintendency of the Richmond Schools, to succeed Supt. Coats. Supt. Bridges will take charge of his new duties here the first of September, and from all appearances there is no man in the state better qualified for the position.
He is a noted educator and brought many strong testimonials before the Board. The new Superintendent is a native of Tennessee, but has been at the head of the Lancaster schools for the past four years.—Richmond Register.

Union Evangelistic Services.
Evangelistic services will begin at the Methodist church in Lancaster at 7:30 April 11th. All pastors and churches and people are fraternally and cordially invited to unite in the fellowship of the services. Prayer in homes, for the meeting, is especially requested.
The pastors will be assisted by Patrick H. Davis and Granville Lyon of Russellville and Hopkinsville, Kentucky.
Mr. Davis is a direct kinsman of President Jefferson Davis. His labor as an evangelist, has been greatly blessed in byways and highways of Kentucky and the South. Mr. Lyon will have leadership of song service.

Hop Joint In Bad.
It has been ascertained that the license issued by the City Council to Gott & Ross to conduct a soft drink establishment was not transferable, and Mr. Gott has again taken possession of the place, Mr. J. P. Prather retiring.
On Tuesday night the council met and issued and had served on Gott & Ross a notice citing them to appear on next Monday night and show cause, if they could, why their license should not be revoked.
The place was closed county court day and the following Tuesday and we are informed it will not re-open for the present at least.

The special grand jury empaneled by Judge Walker last week returned several indictments against the place, arising out of the killing of Ben Guinn by Oz Anderson which took place in that establishment.

Big Circus.
Your visitor to the mighty Haag shows at Lancaster afternoon and evening.
April 11th will not be complete without a tour of the colossal canvas equerry, even though you are not a lover and admirer of blooded stock, it is claimed you will find an hour of genuine pleasure and much to interest you inspecting the droves of horses and ponies.
For the last year agents have been in the different parts of the world making purchases for this department, with a result that today the Mighty Haag shows possess one of the largest, most varied and costly collection of representative members of the equine family which wealth can procure, and which doubtful if anywhere near the like has ever been exhibited before. Certainly never by any traveling show.

Ladies and children are particularly invited to visit this horse fair, which all may safely do without escort, as uniformed and courteous attendants are always present, to look after the welfare of callers.

Gets Fine Horse.
W. B. Burton was in Lexington last week where he made arrangements to farm "Alley Gregor" during the coming season.
Alley Gregor is one of the best promises for a trotting horse in the state.
By Allerton and out of Pearl McGregor, he has all that breeding can give. Big bony, a high stepper, 7 years old with his colts coming 2 year olds and already in training and showing promise of doing great things.
Alley Gregory was on the streets Monday and drew much attention, being the center of admiration of all the horse lovers who saw him.
He will make the season at Mr. Burton's stable. See ad elsewhere in this paper.

Tankersly Convicted.
A jury in the circuit court Tuesday found Quincy Tankersly guilty of voluntary manslaughter, and under the new indeterminate sentence law, which was explained in the Record last week, he will go to the penitentiary for from two to twenty one years. As Judge Walker was engaged for the prosecution, Judge Fryer of Cynthiana presided as special judge. Messrs J. E. Robinson, Chas Hardin and Judge Walker conducted the prosecution, and Messrs Williams and Hamilton defended Tankersly. The crime for which Tankersly was convicted was the killing of his cousin, James Ross in the Flatwood section on July 17, 1910. Tankersly, Ross and several others had been drinking beer and afterward became engaged in a crap game. A dispute arose over a dime and hot words were followed by drawn weapons.

Ross was shot twice and died at the Lancaster hospital on the following Monday as a result of his wounds.

Oz Anderson Kills Ben Guinn.

On last Thursday afternoon about four thirty o'clock in the soft drink establishment near the depot Oz Anderson, a young farmer of the southern part of the county, shot and almost instantly killed Ben Guinn a local color man who was the engineer at the laundry.

Both men had been drinking and a few minutes previous to the shooting Anderson entered the soft drink establishment and ran against Guinn, this incensed Guinn and they had a few words at that time. Both however, left the place, but returned later and at different times, Anderson went behind a partition and was talking to Mr.
W. H. Hughes, and was saying something about the trouble, Guinn overheard the remarks and said "I hear what you are saying and if you hit me, I will eat you" or something to that effect; Anderson then stepped from behind the partition pistol in hand, Guinn started to run and Anderson fired three shots, two of which took effect, one in Guinn's back severing the spinal column and one immediately below the shoulder blade. Anderson surrendered himself to the sheriff who took him into circuit court which was in session and Judge Walker ordered him to jail.

Coroner Farra empaneled a jury who viewed the body and after hearing the evidence of the eye witnesses returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death as the result of pistol wounds inflicted by Oz Anderson.

On Friday morning Judge Walker empaneled a special grand jury, which indicted Anderson for murder. He was arraigned, but not being ready for trial, the case was continued until the next term of the court. The empaneling of a special jury and indicting Anderson at once will expedite the trial and permit of his being tried at the next term of court.

The Aid Society of the Baptist Church will have their annual flower sale at C. D. Powells old stand, April 15th.

Court Over.
Circuit court ended Wednesday and Judge Fryer, who has been acting special judge this week to hear the cases in which Judge Walker was interested as attorney, returned to his home in Cynthiana. Commonwealth's attorney, Chas. A. Hardin returned to his home in Harrodsburg, Tuesday, after the Tankersly trial was over.

In Grave Danger.

In a letter to postmaster West, Senator tells of the great danger encountered on his trip to the Panama Canal.
The Steamship Colon, having on board Senator Bra ley and his daughter Mrs.
South, Mrs. Graham Vreeland, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Langley and several other distinguished Kentuckians, on their way down the Atlantic coast encountered a severe storm off Cape Ha-teras and were blown sixty miles out of their course. They experienced two days of exceedingly rough weather.
They reached Panama without serious injury to any of the party, but the Senator was bruised by several falls to the deck while assisting the ladies.
Mrs. Vreeland lost all her clothes, they being ruined by water, and she experienced quite a nervous shock. Late tidings from them say that all the party are in excellent health and are experiencing no bad results from their rough passage.

Divorce and Alimony.
In the case of Kitchen against Kitchen in the Garrard Circuit Court, Judge Walker granted Mrs. Kitchen a divorce and $30.00 per month Alimony.

Wants To Be Governor.
Judge Ed O'Rear, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals has announced that he will be in the fight for the Republican nomination for Governor. He is one of the best known Republicans in Kentucky, having been one of the leaders of his party for a number of years.
That he will be a popular candidate for the nomination is already plainly seen, from the interest taken in his candidacy by prominent republicans all over the state. Judge O'Rear is a lawyer of recognized ability, of spotless character, and an orator power and force. The platform which he announces, and which he can so ably defend will make him a formidable candidate before his party.

Mr. Joseph H. Arnold.

The fast thinning rank of the gallant heroes who "wore the gray" have again been depleted by the passing of one more of its members who has joined the silent majority.

Mr. Joseph H. Arnold died Tuesday afternoon at his home on Danville street after a long illness. He had long been a sufferer from rheumatism and other ailments to which nearly every old soldier is subject. He rallied last week and his condition showed marked improvement, but it was not for long, a change soon came and he grew rapidly worse until the end came.

Mr. Arnold enlisted in the Confederate army at the outbreak of the Civil War, going with Gen. N. B. Forrest's command, he was afterward transferred to Gen. John Morgan's regiment, where he served until the close of the war.

He was one of the bravest of the brave that fought long and valiantly for the lost cause, giving up the struggle only with Lee's surrender.
"Uncle Joe" Arnold, as he was known by every one was one of Garrard county's most dearly beloved men.
Upright, honest cherishing no animosity against his fellow men he was a cheerful and agreeable companion, always entertaining with a fund of anecdotes of war times, his companionship was sought by all. He was a kind father and husband a consistent Christian. Mr. Arnold was in his 74th year.
He had long been a faithful member of the Methodist church.
Besides his wife he is survived by four children, Misses Virginia and Nell Arnold and Messrs Ralph and James

Arnold. His remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery Wednesday morning after funeral ceremonies at the grave by Dr. Green assisted by Dr.
E. H. Pearce and Rev. F. M. Tinder.
The Confederate Veterans of the county, his surviving companions in arms, following his remains to their last resting place as honorary pall bearers.

Q & C Strike Ended.

Through the efforts of Judge Martin A. Knapp of the Mediation Board, and who ever since the inauguration of the Q & C strike been trying to bring about an amicable adjustment of the differences between the railroad company and its employees, the strike was declared off last Saturday night.

An agreement was reached and signed by representatives of the Brotherhood of Enginemen and Firemen and Horace Baker, general manager of the road. The agreement in substance is, the strike is to be declared off, the strikers are to be reinstated, without prejudice to their rights within fifteen days, except that any fireman known to have committed any act of violence shall not be re-instated; negro fireman not to be employed north of Oakdale, provided competent white men can be secured; the percentage of negro firemen in the service on January 1, 1911 not to be increased; negro firemen not to be assigned to more than one half the passenger runs, or more than one half the preferred freight runs and that any question that shall arise as to the application of the agreement shall be referred to Judge Knapp, and his ruling in the matter shall be final.

The strike, while not being a lengthy one has been a very expensive one. It has seriously crippled the traffic and curtailed the revenue of the railroad, it has caused the fireman, men whose families depend upon their labor for their support, to lose much valuable time, and last but not least, it has caused great inconvenience and loss to the towns and industries along the route.

The Q & C traverses a territory that is almost wholly dependent upon it for its supplies, for instance such towns as Burnside, Somerset, and many others, who if the strike had continued would have not only suffered the financial loss from the paralysis of their industries, but stood a good chance to experience a food famine, whose only relief would have been through the primitive method of wagon trains.

See the silver cup in Logan's window which is to be given away to the best Garrard county dog entered in the dog show at Lexington. Entry must be made before April 4th.

What's New Tailor?

WE don't give gold dollars for sixty cents, but we do deliver greater value in custom-tailored clothes than you'll get in the average tailor shop. The reason is, we represent

Ed. V. Price & Co.
Largest tailors in the world of GOOD made-to-order clothes whose immense organization produces at an ordinary price the kind of tailoring for which smaller shops have to ask one-third to one-half more.

Garrard County Fair.

Garrard county is to have a fair this year. The same old dates have been reserved, July 26-27 and 28th.

"The Fair" is the one gale event of the year, looked forward to by our people as a few days of recreation, as a relaxation of the years toils, and a time for everybody to gather in town and have a good time.

The charter of the old association has expired, and for a time it looked very much as if we were not to have a fair this year, but a few public spirited citizens went quietly to work, feeling the pulse of the people, seeing if they wanted it. They have now fully concluded their investigation, and have organized with Mr. W. B. Burton as president and Mr. F. B. Marksbury as secretary, and are now actively engaged in making preparation for the "Biggest and best" exhibition Garrard county has ever witnessed.

Heretofore Garrard county has ranked up with the best fairs in the state, and the gentlemen behind the present venture are determined that it shall not fall below the standard this year. The grounds will undergo many improvements, will be placed in first class condition, and everything possible done to assure the success of the 1911 exhibition.

A fair, in order to be a success must have the co-operation of the citizens, they must feel and exhibit an interest in it. Your attendance is not the only essential thing to its success, talk it, boost it, write to your friends at a distance about it, prepare your stock for it, and last but not least, come to it. One deplorable thing about our home fairs is the few premiums awarded to county people; this is attributable to the lack of home exhibitors. You depend on people from other counties to bring in stock to fill the rings. This is something that can be easily remedied. Begin now, get some of your stock ready for it. Perhaps you have a nice colt, which with a little handling might prove the winner of the blue tie. There is no harm in trying. If you are beaten, you will have brought your stock before the eyes of the public and perhaps secured a better sale for it.

A fair is an advantage to a community from a general financial point of view. It keeps a great deal of money at home. The people of Kentucky are a fair going people, lovers of the horse, and if they cannot get a chance to see an exhibition at home, they will go elsewhere. This of course means the expenditure of many dollars in an adjoining county. In the years ago when Garrard had no exhibition, the amount spent by our citizens annually in visiting exhibitions in adjoining counties ran well up into the thousands. Of late years during the life of the old Garrard County Fair Association, the bulk of this money was kept at home. It is to be hoped that we may never miss another year, that we shall have a fair each and every year.

Another financial advantage is the crowd which the fair brings to town, from which the merchants reap a bountiful trade. It is true that the fair going crowd is not a money spending crowd in so far as the general merchants trade is concerned, immediately during the fair, but they must "get ready", the girls as well as the children must have new clothes for the occasion, even the head of the house and "the boys" must have new clothes, must look well on this occasion. This creates a good business for several months immediately preceding the occasion, which more than overbalances the "quilted of trade during the few days it is in progress.

The hotels, restaurants, and places of amusements reap their part of the benefits while the fair is in progress; people and stock must be housed and fed, and the crowd must be amused. So it is that all reap their benefit, directly or indirectly.

The social features of the county fair is another argument in its favor. It is a rendezvous for all the friends in the adjoining counties, where they meet and talk over the happenings of the past year, financial and as regards all the stock and farm products of their several communities.

Where to the mellow strains of a splendid band of music, the elite of Central Kentucky while away a few hours of pure enjoyment, and go to their several homes with a keen anticipation of another trip to Lancaster next year to the fair.

It seems that while we were holding up our hands in holy horror at the vote selling probe in Adams county, Ohio, that we were occupying the position of the proverbial person who dwelt in a glass house. It now develops that we have a similar trouble close at home. At Prestonsburg in Floyd county 210 indictments have already been found, and still there are more to follow. It is alleged that the custom has been in vogue there for years until it has become common and little thought of, but since the investigation has been set afoot, many of the citizens are leaving the county, many of them men of prominence, to avoid the disgrace and notoriety.

A disaster accompanied by the greatest loss of life since the burning to the waters edge of the General Slocum in 1904 occurred in New York last Saturday when a ten story building occupied by the Triangle Waist Co. was gutted by fire. One hundred and forty eight persons lost their lives, some burned to death, some smothered and others were dashed to death on the pavement when they jumped to the firemen's nets, which were inadequate for the occasion. Nine tenths of the dead were women and girls, inhabitants of New York East side, who were employed in the waist factory.

On next Thursday, April 4th Congress will meet in extra session to deliberate upon the Canadian Reciprocity Agreement, at least that is the purpose of the calling of an extra session, and it is hardly probable that other matters will be dealt with. Champ Clark of Missouri, a Democrat, will succeed "Uncle Joe" Cannon as Speaker of the House, and it is highly probable that the latter will occupy the place of Mr. Clark, leader of the minority.

To further complicate the affairs of distressed Mexico and embarrass President Diaz, his entire cabinet resigned. However, with the nerve for which he is famous he at once started about the formation of a new cabinet. The portfolio of Minister of Foreign Relations was tendered to Senor de la Barra, Ambassador to the United States, who accepted.

On last Saturday near Oscilla Ga. the "Dixie Flyer, a fast train on the A. C. L. R. R. went through a trestle over the Alapaha river. Eight persons were killed outright and twenty two more injured. Among the killed was O. F. Baumgart of Henderson Ky.

Hon. Leslie Combs, who was succeeded as Minister to Peru by Hon. H. Clay Howard, and who returned to Lexington last week, announces that he will not again be in politics but will live on his blue grass farm, "Bel-air" near Lexington.

The trustees of the Louisville Y. M. C. A. have purchased three lots at Third and Broadway upon which to erect the new Y. M. C. A. building. The price paid for the lots was $151,000.

President Taft has just received a message from the Emperor of Japan in which he reiterates the friendly feeling of Japan toward the United States and brands all war rumors as false and wicked.

Punishment

When Perkerson let himself into the house that evening after having remained slightly longer than usual at the office he sniffed the air and detected a number of things. First there was anger. Then there was fear and grief, blended. In addition there was sympathy.

Perkerson may perhaps have suspected the presence of anger from the manner of Mrs. Perkerson's greeting, and the stern expression of her face. The fear and grief may have been deduced from the manner of little nine-year-old Carrie, who crept to his side and fondled one of his hands in a half-frightened and tearful manner until he swung her up and kissed her. The sympathy may have shown in the actions and expression of five-year-old Josie, who kept close to her older sister's side and gave her a loving squeeze at every opportunity. Altogether it seemed a very sad and distraught household.

Perkerson tried to chase the baby behind a chair; but it would not chase. It just stood and looked at him. He buried his chin beneath Josie's ear and nuzzled in her neck in the loving fashion peculiar to parents, and which never before had failed to throw her into spasms of laughter, but she took the muzzling in bored silence. He grasped Carrie and turning her upside down, made her kick the curtain pole above the double door. It produced never a struggle or a giggle from Carrie. He fired a bunch of jokes at Mrs. Perkerson and she merely looked at him.

Perkerson, discouraged, retired to his den. When the dinner bell rang he came out and took his place at the table, wearing his sealskin cap, his earmuffs, his overcoat, his galoshes, his mittens and his neckscarf.

"Have you got a chill?" asked Mrs. Perkerson.

"That's what I've got," replied Perkerson. "I never knew it to be so frosty before at this time of year." Then Perkerson, having made his point, piled his winter clothing on a chair and resented himself at the table.

"Joseph, you have got to give Carrie a good whipping," said Mrs. Perkerson. "I have told her that you would, and you must."

Perkerson jumped up from the table and went to the basement, returning presently with a club five feet long and about three inches in diameter. "Now," said he, "tell me what it is about."

"She is so careless that she doesn't pay the least attention to what she is about. I gave her 50 cents today and told her to go to the market and get a steak for dinner, and what do you suppose she did?"

"How many guesses may I have?"

"Now, don't be silly; this is a serious matter."

"Well, then, I seriously guess that she squandered a nickel, a half dime, the twentieth part of a dollar, for candy."

"No, she didn't. She laid the half-dollar down on the sidewalk while she buttoned the strap to her slipper, and then she went along to the market, and when she went back to look for it it was gone! I never heard of such carelessness."

"That was awful!"

"Are you going to whip her?"

"I am going to break her to pieces!"

"Now, don't try to be funny. Children must be taught to keep their wits about them. Such carelessness is inexcusable."

"I know it. I have got to deal out several whippings tonight, though—sort of clean up the slate, you know."

"What are you talking about?"

"Well, I remember that a few weeks ago a grown-up girl went into a department store, and after looking at some goods, went out leaving a five-dollar hand-bag containing $10 in money lying on the counter. Because of the clerk's honesty, the purse and its contents were recovered, and the woman has never had a whipping for that."

"Well, that—"

"Another time, not so very long ago, a grown-up girl called at a friend's house and—see how similar this is to the tale of the half-dollar—her shoe coming untied just as she was starting for home, she put her purse on the steps while she tied her shoe. Then she went home, leaving her purse behind. Later on she accused her loving husband of having hidden her purse for a joke. That grown-up girl has never been whipped for it."

The Perkersons sat toying with their food for a few moments in silence.

"Well," said Perkerson, jumping to his feet. "I'll have to get it over with."

"Whip me first, Joseph," said Mrs. Perkerson, with tears in her eyes as she came out and put her arms about his neck. "I feel that I have been very hard-hearted and thoughtless—and—"

"No one ought to be whipped," replied Perkerson. "I would not bruise one of my babies for all the half-dollars that were ever minted, and you knew I wouldn't or you wouldn't have told me to."

"I—I guess you know me better than I know myself," said Mrs. Perkerson, with a little catch in her throat.

A college education is the beginning of many a brilliant success—and failure.

Enterprising Storekeeper.

There is a double sign in front of a store in a New York cross street that extends to a Jersey ferry that is intended to catch trade coming and going. On the west side of the sign are these words: "Stop In and Get Our Goods and Leave Them Until You Are on Your Way Home." On the east side of the sign is this injunction: "Don't Forget to Come in and Get the Goods You Bought This Morning."

Retain Cheerfulness.

Hold fast to your happy impressions. Life is full of mischance; but if you are tactful you can escape many shoals and the gloom that follows them. Do not let the shadows of yesterday fall on today.

it will help you.

Take CARDUI
Mrs. L. Eells, of New Hartford, Ia., was afflicted for 24 years. She writes: "For the past 24 years I have been afflicted with womb trouble, causing extreme nervousness, pain in right side and back - altogether making life a burden. I tried doctors and various other remedies without relief. Finally I began using Wine of Cardui.
Now I am entirely cured. I cheerfully advise all women similarly afflicted to try Cardui." Sold everywhere.

CAN'T BE SEPERATED. Some Lancaster People Have Learned How To Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.
You can't separate them.
And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.
If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.
Doan's Kidney pills make strong, healthy kidneys.
George Wright, Stanford St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "I have never known of a better kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Last fall my back ached a great deal and my kidneys were badly disordered. The kidney secretions were scanty and painful in passage. I fortunately had Doan's Kidney Pills brought to my attention and getting a box at Frisbie's Drug Store, I began their use. They relieved me promptly and in return for the benefit I received, I am willing that my name should be used in recommending them. My advice to all sufferers from kidney trouble is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial.
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Man's Stomach, Is Just As Good Or Bad As He Makes It

If you are blessed with good stomach be thankful and make up your mind to keep it good.

If you have a bad stomach; one that nakes you feel miserable after eating; one that turns your food sour and causes gas to belch up in the mouth, then you want to get busy at once and turn our bad stomach into a good one.
How can this be done? you ask.
Simply by using daily the best prescription for stomach ailments ever written.

What is the name of this prescription?
Wherever civilization exists it is known as M-I-O-N-A.

R. E. McRoberts & Son sells it for 50 cents a box; he does more he guarantees it to relieve stomach distress, in five minutes; he goes even further and says: if M-I-O-N-A doesn't cure indigestion, acute or chronic, or any diseases caused by stomach disturbance we will give you your money back, without any haggling or red tape.

And this guarantee means that M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets, as most people all them will cure biliousness, nausea, nervousness, heartburn, foul breath, flatulence, and sleeplessness.

It means that M-I-O-N-A is such a wonderfully good remedy that it quickly turns a bad stomach into a good one, that will stay good, strong and vigorous, just as long as it is treated right.
Try M-I-O-N-A ye men of weak stomachs, you take no risk. It is guaranteed by R. E. McRoberts & Son and druggists everywhere.

Attacks School Principal.
A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common.
Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them.

Mystery of the Violets

There are three daughters in the Jerviss family, all attractive young women of a going-out age.

Emily, the eldest, is a tall, dashing brunette. Eleanor, the second, is petite and dark. Daisy, the youngest, is a short blond young person with freckles and the engaging manners of a cherub small boy. It is a standing grievance among this otherwise carefree trio that their various admirers often fail to attach a distinguishing first name to their offerings and notes.

"It was all very well," Daisy sputtered wrathfully to a girl caller, "to content that Emily is the only Miss Jerviss. To be sure, Emily could, properly and technically speaking, claim the honor of that title, but when it comes to claiming every box of candy that reaches the house thus addressed it is quite another matter.

"It's horribly embarrassing," she complained, "for us not to know which one of us has to thank the man whose card accompanies the gift, because we all three go out with the same men occasionally, and it's hard to know which one he desires to favor.

"This time," she added, with a giggle, "is the worst yet!" She uncovered a square purple box and displayed to her girl caller a great bunch of violets. She buried her nose in them ecstatically.

"They are absolutely the first of the season," she said, "and they came two hours ago addressed to Miss Jerviss' and without a trace of a card. Of course, we all three claim them, because Eleanor is going to the theater with Billy Selterman tonight and Emily is going to a little informal dance with Henry Corsairs and I myself am expecting Livingston Orr to call. A mere call doesn't necessitate flowers, naturally, but Livingston has been rather—er—devoted of late. And every man harbors the conviction that the recipient of his favors is going to know whom to thank by some subtle romantic instinct.

"No, indeed," she went on, in answer to a question from the caller, "we haven't come to any decision yet. We had a council and after much discussion we decided to be foxy, so each one of us invented good excuses to call up the man she is going out with this evening to see if he wouldn't get into a conversation and give himself away.

"Emily called Henry to say that she couldn't possibly be ready until half an hour later than the time he was to come, but he only thanked her gratefully for letting him know, and she had to hang up the receiver without enlightenment.

"Then Eleanor called up Billy to remind him that she didn't know what play they were going to see. She told him that she wanted to look up the criticisms beforehand. Equally hopeless!

"And so I rang up Livingston to ask him to stop off on his way here tonight and bring me a certain book from the Kays'. He agreed pleasantly and remarked that he had been thinking about me all day.

"Ah ha!" said I to myself. "Here is where little Daisy corners the violet market." Then, "How am I going to be convinced of that?" I inquired arch-ly of Livingston, thinking he would speak of his floral offering as a proof.
But he only remonstrated, in a hurt voice, that he hoped I wouldn't need any convincing argument on that score. So I hung up the receiver badly. What he said didn't sound promising, although, of course, he may have sent the violets and will not mention them until I do."

She returned the bouquet to its box with a sigh. "Emily will probably get them after all," she said, ruefully, "because she has the legal claim. Then if they really did come from Nell's young man or mine he will be mortally offended when he notices that we haven't worn them.

"But, you see—" She was interrupted by the entrance of the housemaid with a card.

"There's a boy just come, Miss Daisy," said the maid, "to say that the box from the florist's that was delivered this afternoon was addressed wrong. He says it was for Mrs. Jer-viss instead of Miss Jerviss, and here's the card that was to go with it."

Daisy accepted the card with a blank face. But as she read a broad grin grew upon her countenance.

"They are from Uncle Jack," she said. "He always sends mother flowers when he passes through town."

The grin developed into a laugh.
"The joke is on Emily," gasped Daisy after an interval, "for she has gone five miles to the dressmaker's to hurry up her new lavender gown so that she can wear it with those violets tonight!"

Preserving Autumn Leaves.
A lady writes that she has preserved autumn leaves in the following manner: Take a book with rather a heavy cover when you go to gather the leaves and place them in it smoothly. The next day or so give them a coat of varnish such as is used for photographs. I have made very pretty centerpieces by cutting a piece of cardboard any shape desired and arranging the leaves as a lace or embroidered centerpiece. For a pretty dish for the middle I cut off carrots about an inch and a half in length and put them in a pretty glass dish with a little water and a few pieces of charcoal. They grow and look like ferns.

Sterling and both are of leading families of that city—Lexington Herald.

Mr. Ashley Dead.

Mr. Silas L. Ashley, one of Lancaster's oldest and most highly appreciated citizens died at his home on Crab Orchard street Sunday night of a complication of diseases. Mr. Ashley had been a long sufferer and recently underwent an operation at the Lancaster Hospital in the hope of obtaining relief. At first it was thought that he would recover, and he did sufficiently to allow of his being removed to his home. He is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter. Mr. Ashley was the oldest local lodge of Odd Fellows, under whose auspices the funeral was conducted and the remains laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery on Tuesday morning.

Memorial.

In St. Louis, (Kirkwood), Sunday, March 19th, 3:30 p. m. Stanley Dodd Pearce Jr., eldest of three children of Stanley D. and Odelein Pearce; eldest grandchild of E. H. and Mrs. E. H. Pearce, of Danville—in his sixth year. In his last hours, one pulse was quenchless. It was the throbbing utterance of child faith in Jesus; "This little boy is very sick; but he has said his prayer; he is not afraid; Jesus will take him; don't worry—dear daddie, mummy, little sisters; its all right!"

Then calling for the mother hands to be placed as a pillow beneath his head, he fell asleep in the Everlasting Arms. Holy ministries of devoted friends gathered to the home. But doubtless a tribute was in the night long sobbing grief of little fellows of kindergarten and Sunday School, who at eventide, learned that a dearly loved comrade had been called away.

"Thou knowest not now; thou shalt know hereafter"; the sure voice of the Greater love; "let him come unto me." "Thy power hath blessed me, sure it still will lead me on o'er moon and sun; o'er crag and torrent till the night is gone; And with the morn those angel faces smile Which I have loved long since and lost awhile."

At This Season

you should exercise great care to have your home in a perfect sanitary and healthy condition. Among other things, your plumbing system is the most important feature that requires careful attention.

When you consider that the health of your family is governed absolutely by domestic sanitary conditions you can readily see the extreme necessity to guard against any possible defects in your plumbing system.

Let us examine your plumbing and quote you a price on correcting the defective piping or installing new fixtures. "Standard" plumbing fixtures and our expert service never fail to please. Illustrated literature always on hand.

Farm and Stock.

Logan Hubble sold Grimes Beasley a fancy sorrel mare for $300.

Kinnaird Bourne bought a mule of Erasmus Dunn for $140.

J. N. Sloan sold D. Spoonamore a nice harness horse for $175.

R. E. Henry sold a sow and nine pigs to Mr. A. R. Denny for $40.

Robert Burnside sold to Ike Dunn of Lexington a nice family mare for $20.

W. L. Sloan bought a nice two year old sorrel mare of Jeremiah Biard, price private.

Duckworth & Benton bought four common horses at prices ranging from $100. to $150.

G. T. Higginbotham bought of the Administrators of R. D. Ballard a buggy mare for $180.

Shanks and Dowdy of Columbus Ga. bought of Robert Thompson a nice road horse for $300.

Allen Edelen of Burgin sold to Arkansas parties the yearling colt Bohemian by Bohemian King for $750.

Wilson Rogers sold to Benton of Nicholasville a horse for $175. and to Renicks of Paint Lick a mare for $135.

There were very few mules on the market and most of them of which were of inferior quality, no sales reported.

H. T. Knott of Kenton N. C. bought two mares of W. B. Burton for $575. Same party bought of George D. Robinson a pacing mare for $182.50.

W. L. Sloan has the good horse "Silverwood" which he purchased of Wilson Rodgers of this county, and will stand him at his farm near Hubble.

Jo and Wood Burnside sold a bunch of fat hogs to Stewart & Vanlenburg for 62 cents. Howard Logan sold a bunch of 30 fat hogs to V. A. Lear for $6.35.

Shanks & Dowdy bought the following horses, one of Banks Hudson for $200.; one of H. Peel of Nicholasville for $275. and one of W. B. Burton for $175.

W. L. Sloan sold to Will Lillard of Danville an 8 months old Jack colt for $325. This was a fancy animal and Mr. Lillard has already been offered $50. profit on his purchase.

At the fat stock show in Paris, France, last month the grand champion steer was a Shorthorn, weighed 2,717 pounds and was sold to a Paris restaurant keeper for $700.

A fire occurred in the Union Stock Yards at Chicago, Ill., on March 18th, causing a loss of about one hundred thousand dollars. Six hundred head of cattle were burned to death, and two men were lost.

All of the live stock markets are bearing veal calves that weigh less than 100 pounds. Be sure your calves are of sufficient weight and maturity before you ship them, else you will suffer a loss on them.

Horse racing is dead in New York State, for this year at least. The Jockey Club has issued a statement saying that because of adverse legislation it has been decided to make no application for dates. This news came out almost simultaneously with reports from New Orleans that horse owners believe the sport beyond revival there.

J. N. Ross reports about 100 head of cattle on the market, all of which sold at fairly good prices. He reports the following sales at his yards:

Lillard & Fox to R. I. Bourton and Lewis Dillon, 25-725 steers at 52 cents. Same parties to Teater, 11-700 pound steers at $7.35. J. M. Roberts of Somerset had 33 mixed heifers and steers which he disposed of to different parties at prices ranging from 4 to 52 cents.

The Fresh Kid.
"Young man," said the old one, severely, "when I was your age, I, too, thought I knew it all. Now I have reached the conclusion that I know very little." "Great Scott!" exclaimed the lad, in astonishment; "has it taken you this long time to find that out? Why, I knew it the minute I saw you!"

Good Aim.
Hoax—"So young Golrox has taken a wife. What was her maiden name?" Joax—"Her maiden name seems to have been to marry Golrox and she proved an unusually good shot for a woman."—Stray Stories.

All our Departments Both In The Ready-To-Wear and the Piece Goods Ends Are Full Of New Goods. Our Store Offers You All The Advantages Of Shopping In New York Without The Many Disadvantages.

You will always see in our Suit room and on our counters, just the garments and merchandise to be seen in the best New York shops. We keep in daily touch with New York through the corps of expert buyers in our New York office at 69 Fifth Avenue. We buy everything at lowest cash prices, and our comparatively low expenses enables us to sell much cheaper than the big city stores and still make a profit. We have reason to believe that we have the largest and best selection of Ladies' Garments as well as Dry Goods in Central Kentucky.

Tailored Suits.

We have built up a fine trade on really high class nan-tailored suits at reasonable prices. These are made of the very best materials, handsomely lined tailoring inside and out and is absolutely the best. All the new ideas in Greys, Tans, Blues, stripes, as well as staple colors, are now in stock at from $15.00 to $40.00.

ALLEY GREGOR is one of the best trotting Stallions in Kentucky. He has a lot of style and finish and is a great acting horse. Don't wear any boots, just 9 oz shoes. He ought to make a great sire. His oldest colts are coming two's and show great speed and action. Any one wishing to see one of them can do so on the Lexington track where they are now in training.

This is a good chance for the people of Garrard County to breed into the best families of the trotting blood.

Look this horse's breeding over and see how many they have in the list both sire and dam.

This great trotting Stallion will make the season of 1911 at my stable in Lancaster, Kentucky, at
